Soldier Hero's Parents Carry On Spirit Of Son Japs Killed

HELENVILLE, Wis., Oct. 21.—(P)—The Congressional Medal of Honor lay in its case today alongside a picture of the late Serg. Kenneth E. Gruennert in the modest home here of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gruennert.

It had come through the mail with a citation signed by the President and a letter from Secretary of War Stimson because the Gruennerts had wanted it that way.

The Gruennerts had been asked by the War Department to receive the medal for their son from the President. They didn't believe they should go, however, so wrote a letter to the War Department. It took a long time to write. This is what it said:

"We feel honored indeed to receive a medal of honor for our departed son, to be delivered to us personally by the President of the United States.

"Under present conditions, however, we can not help but give expression to some of the following thoughts which race through our minds day and night.

"On the back of the B sticker on our windshield is this question: 'Is this trip really necessary?'"

"We are in the midst of the third War Bond drive, we believe every cent of money subscribed should be used to supply our boys with the necessities of war and not spent for trips that do not directly help the war effort.

"Only this last week, thousands of other parents lost their loved ones on the battlefields of Italy, all brave boys that were loved by their parents as much as we loved our own. These parents can not all converge on Washington, and because of the common bond we have with them we feel we shouldn't either. The loss of our brave boy is still too fresh in our memory for us to make this trip even though it would be in his honor.

"Will you please convey our regrets to the President?"

"Will you please ask him whether it would be possible for him to put whatever message he may have for us in writing, so it may be delivered to us along with the medal of honor and we will ever cherish and treasure them both in the memory of our boy."

The letter found its way to the desk of Secretary of War Stimson. It was evident that it had moved everyone who had seen it, for Secretary Stimson wrote back:

"The spirit of unselfishness, understanding and sacrifice which breathes through your letter has deeply impressed not only the President, who requested a copy for himself, but all of us in the War Department who have been privileged to read your letter. We stand humbled in the face of such a demonstration of patriotism as yours. I realize the personal sorrow you are so bravely bearing. May I extend my own sympathy and reassure you that

NAZI ARMY FACING DISASTER IN RUSSIA

Meandering
Along the Main Stem
By WASH. FAYETTE

Elliott Roush, who died recently in Northern Fayette County where he was born and grew to manhood before leaving for other scenes of endeavor, at one time held the championship of the province of Ontario, Canada, as a clay pigeon shooter, and attracted widespread attention by his skill with a shotgun.

Elliott, whom I knew well as a boy, was one of the best engineers on the Canadian Pacific Railroad for many years, until forced to retire by ill health. It was while he resided in Ontario that he became one of the best known trap-shooters in the whole Dominion.

W. L. Moore, of the Sportsmen's Review, published at Cincinnati, in a letter written to a local resident, announced that the next issue of the Review will carry an article about Elliott and his prowess with a shotgun.

A number of years ago while hunting in the wilds of Canada, Elliott killed a huge moose, the head of which he had mounted, and which is now at the home of his sister where he passed away.

Walking a wire when necessary to escape dogs or obtain food is nothing new for the squirrels that are to be found in many parts of the city.

I have seen them walk from one telephone pole to another on the quarter inch steel cable supporting the conduit carrying the telephones wires, with a yelping dog running along on the ground.

Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lena Reser, 513 East Street, a bag of hickory nuts had been suspended from a clothesline, several feet from the supporting post.

A squirrel ran up the post, apparently much excited by the proximity of so many delicious nuts, and after a moment's pause on top of the post, made a dash over the clothes line to the bag of nuts, tore an opening through the cloth, and proceeded to help himself before he was frightened away and the bag of nuts removed.

The squirrel proved adept at wire walking, and in his brief run over the wire did not make a single misstep.

VISIT TO CAPITAL SOUGHT FOR BRICKER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(P)—Don Power, executive secretary to Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, was in the capital today to discuss with Ohio Republican congressmen the possibility they might extend Bricker a formal invitation to visit them here, possibly within the next few weeks.

Reps. Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton and John M. Vorys of Columbus, said that should Bricker come here and announce his candidacy for the presidential nomination, he probably would prefer to do it in a major public speech rather than in a talk only to the Ohio delegation.

AMERICAN CASUALTIES ARE UNDER ESTIMATES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(P)—Estimates of American casualties in Italy from September 8 to the beginning of the battle of the Volturno River have been reduced substantially in recent reports, Secretary of War Stimson reported today.

He told a press conference that the latest report for this period was 879 killed, 3,047 wounded and 2,848 missing, a total of 6,744.

BATTLE BREWS BETWEEN FDR AND FARM BLOC

Food Subsidies Center of Chief Argument as Other Problems Face Congress

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(P)—A message from President Roosevelt was awaited tensely in Congress today as the signal for a showdown on the battle between the Farm Bloc and the administration over food subsidies.

Reports were that the presidential message would ask continued subsidies to producers to hold down prices. There were indications that it might be a stern message sharply criticizing opponents of the program. If the communication were of this nature, a renewal of the fight would not be an unexpected sequel.

National farm organization leaders expressed the hope of a compromise if the White House would permit the War Food Administration to meet the anti-subsidy bloc halfway.

Economic Stabilization Director Vinson insisted that Congress cannot afford to ban subsidies, the such action would "torpedo the government's stabilization policy."

Soldier Vote

Some clarification was promised for one of the toughest nuts Congress has had to crack for a long time—the soldier vote issue. Nav. Secretary Knox was called before the House National Election Committee to do the clarifying, but it was not expected that he would contribute anything to the settlement of the real problem—whether a federal commission or the state governments shall control the voting of servicemen overseas.

Labor Controversy

President Roosevelt summoned his combined labor war board to the White House to try and patch up differences on wage and price rulings and workers in the railroad and coal industries. A strike vote of railroad employees has been hinted. There has been considerable dissatisfaction among the soft coal workers and operators.

COMMUNISTS NAMED TO CHINA'S GOVERNMENT

CHUNGKING, Oct. 21.—(P)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, ne wpreident of China, has appointed two Communist leaders, Gen. Chou En-Lai and Tung Pi-wu, to a committee of 60 designated to lay the groundwork for a constitutional government.

BROWN RESIGNS AS OPA ADMINISTRATOR
WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt accepted today the resignation of Prentiss M. Brown as price administrator. The President is expected to send to the Senate soon the nomination of Chester Bowles, general manager of the Office of Price Administration, to succeed Brown.

APPALACHIAN COAL OPERATORS OPPOSE AGREEMENT
WASHINGTON—Appalachian soft coal operators went to bat today against the proposed portal-to-portal wage agreement between the United Mine Workers (U.M.W.) and the Illinois operators, calling it "radical" and "a subterfuge" in a hearing before the War Labor Board (WLB).

ARMY TO NEED 75,000 MEN A MONTH
WASHINGTON—The army will need about 75,000 men a month after the first of the year as replacements to keep its total strength at 7,700,000, Secretary of War Stimson said today.

FOUR ATTEMPTS MADE TO KILL LAVAL
NEW YORK—French patriots have tried to kill Pierre Laval four times in the last 15 days and as a result the Vichy chief of government has reinforced his bodyguard, the Dakar radio said.

Leipzig Is Smashed By Allied Bombers As Aerial Assault On Germany Renewed

LONDON, Oct. 21.—(P)—Strong waves of British bombers pounded the great German industrial and trade center of Leipzig last night and Mosquito planes stung Berlin and western German targets.

It was the first attack "in strength" on Leipzig, which lies

111 rail miles southwest of Berlin and is outranked only by the capital and Hamburg as a trade and industrial center. Six lighter raids were made on the city early in the war. The British lost 17 black-winged bombers in pummeling the historic city of narrow streets and high-pitched roofs which cradles important iron, rubber, chemical, oil and textile industries.

The big attack on Leipzig, unbombarded since its sixth raid of the war November 23, 1940, came while the Germans, in sharp contrast, sent a tiny force of bombers over England to give London its fifth successive night alert and kill six persons with a handful of scattered bombs.

Leipzig, Germany's sixth industrial city, is situated in the middle of the country, 100 miles southwest of Berlin and almost on the Czechoslovak border.

Leipzig has one of the world's largest railroad terminals on lines linking it with other important industrial centers like Berlin, Regensburg and Kassel, also recently blasted by Britain-based Allied bombers.

It was the first big attack of

Seven Boys Go To BIS For $24,000 Burglary; Only $7,500 Of It Left

CLEVELAND, Oct. 21.—(P)—Seven boy burglars who took $24,000 from the Shaker Heights home of Frank R. Skedel were under sentence today to the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster, Ohio.

Another youth, who helped steal a car and received only $1.50 as his share of the loot, was sentenced to the Hudson, Ohio, Boys Farm.

The youths committed the burglary September 2, entering the residence through a basement window. They ripped open a wall safe, hauled it to a nearby field and broke it open with a pickaxe.

Only $7,500 of the cash taken has been recovered. Detective

Lieutenant Harley M. Benethum said the boys told him a racketeer secured $14,000 on a promise to have the money changed into bills of smaller denomination.

One of the youths, who was arrested in Lexington, Ky., told police how he spent nearly $6,000 in three weeks. Only $585 was found on him at the time of his arrest. He said he spent $550 for War Bonds, entertained girls

SECY. MORGENTHAU AT ITALIAN FRONT

Impressed by Troops and Assures Home Support

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY, Oct. 21.—(P)—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau traveled through forward areas of the Italian front with Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark today and had high praise for British and American soldiers and for AMG's work in restoring the city of Naples.

"I am much struck by the young British and American soldiers," he said. "Their faces seemed so alert and they were so evidently in the pink of condition that they seem to be ready for anything."

"I can assure Gen. Clark that the fighting forces have nothing to worry about the people at home," he added. "They are solemnly behind the war and they'll provide every dollar and every piece of material—and that means a good many dollars and lots of material—necessary to bring about complete victory."

OLE' MAN RIVER, this time the Volturno, still "don't say nothing" to these first German prisoners of Panzer grenadiers as they stare around for a clue to their destination. Captured beyond their shore of the river, they are being ferried across to Allied headquarters.

SEVEN SHIPS SUNK BY SUBS, NAZIS SAY

By The Associated Press

The German High Command asserted today that seven Allied vessels totaling 54,000 tons had been sunk from Mediterranean convoys by raiding U-boats.

The broadcast claims, which were without Allied confirmation, did not say when the attacks took place.

Another Berlin broadcast, which placed the attacks "east of Gibraltar" and "between Sicily and Salerno," said the new sinkings had raised Allied losses in war material destined for southern Italy to more than 80,000 tons.

AUSTRALIA RATONS MEAT
PARLIAMENT HOUSE, Canberra, Oct. 21.—(P)—Premier John Curtin announced today that Australia's war cabinet has decided to introduce meat rationing for civilians next January.

American Soldiers Of Jap Ancestry Led Attack On Italy, Stimson Says

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(P)—American soldiers of Japanese ancestry led the Italian mainland attack of a famous American division which had distinguished itself in Tunisia.

Reporting this today, Secretary of War Stimson said the Japanese-Americans had passed the test of Nazi fire with flying colors, and now are "fighting in the battle lines along the road to Rome."

Lt. Paul E. Froning of New Bremen, O., who is of German ancestry, is one of the officers in the outfit in which all the enlisted men are Hawaiian-Americans.

They form the 100th Infantry Battalion. The division was not identified. All were born in Hawaii of Japanese parents. The

"I relayed this report on seconds to newspapers without realizing at the time that it was not a report on synthetic tires. The synthetics are proving satisfactory with respect to wear and traction."

"We are testing some 50 synthetic tires. Some have 20,000 miles on them and are in fairly good shape. We found we had to keep two pounds more air pressure in the synthetics than in the natural rubber tires."

WOUNDED START HOME

GOETTBORG, Sweden, Oct. 21.—(P)—The exchange of approximately 5,000 wounded British, Canadian and Australian soldiers and 14 Americans for a similar number of German invalids was completed today with the sailing of three hospital ships for Britain and two for Germany.

Aides participating in the talks will change as the various problems wherein they are experts come before the conferees.

WIDE RANGE COVERED
LONDON, Oct. 21.—(P)—Agreement on the whole range of military and economic problems involved in coordinating Allied strategy to win both the war and the peace is regarded here as the ultimate objective of the Tripartite conference in Moscow.

Definite ways and means of defeating Germany, encouraging a democratic successor to Hitlerism and controlling Germany's militaristic tendencies after the war presumably are among the complex issues.

The Allied attitude toward at least two kings—George of Greece and Peter of Yugoslavia—not to mention young King Simion of Bulgaria, also is expected to figure in the frank discussions.

Military aspects of the conference appear to be secondary.

VATICAN IS HAVEN FOR FOES OF AXIS

BERN, Switzerland, Oct. 21.—(P)—A border dispatch to the newspaper La Suisse de Geneva said today the Vatican refused to deliver over to the Germans anti-Fascist and anti-Nazi refugees who sought sanctuary within its walls and "Germany bowed to this decision."

Included in the refugees, the dispatch from Chiasso said, were leaders of the former Fascist regime who became prominent anti-Fascists after Benito Mussolini's downfall. Several members of the grand council that voted Mussolini's ouster are believed to have entered the Vatican.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—(P)—Another contingent of American forces including hundreds of WACS arrived recently at a British port, it was announced today.

ALLIED ADVANCE ROLLS STEADILY NORTH IN ITALY

Some of Bloodiest Fighting
Of War Raging - - Japs
Register Some Gains

By The Associated Press
The German armies that Hitler once boasted were invincible and made up of supermen today were under severe pressure from two sides and above his vaunted European fortress without a roof.

A mass withdrawal of the Nazi horde from the Crimea to escape entrapment by the surging Red army faced the German high command in Russia while in Italy the American Fifth Army continued to drive ahead on the road to Rome after having smashed the Nazi defense lines and crossed the Volturno River.

Meanwhile, Germany proper and the Balkan states, where defenses are being set up, were rocked by Allied bombs.

Red Drive Speeds Up
As the Red army troops poured through the Kremenchug bridgehead west of the Dnieper River, the German command was said to be throwing all available reserves into the breach. But the Soviet drive, hourly increasing in momentum, smashed further to the west through the Ukrainian steppe country, to overlap the Crimea on the north, a Russian communique disclosed.

A second Red army column was racing south toward Kirov Rog, important rail junction and center of the south Russian iron industry, and was reported to be within 35 miles of that key German stronghold guarding the last escape railway route from the Crimea.

More than 1,500 Nazis were slain in this advance, the Russian communique declared. Capture of Kirov Rog would virtually seal off the tens of thousands of Germans in Dnepropetrovsk and in the Dnieper bend above Melitopol, where the Russians were reported to be methodically cleaning out last-ditch Nazi units. Some of the bloodiest fighting of the war was going on inside the city.

Disaster Faces Nazis
Elimination of the German forces in the Dnieper bend, which the Russian communique indicated was practically assured, would leave the way open for a swift Red army drive across the steppes to Perekop Peninsula and the mouth of the Dnieper River.

Unless the Nazis make good their escape from their Crimean positions, they face the possibility of a debacle unequalled since Stalingrad.

North of Kiev and south of Re-chitsa, the Moscow war bulletin said, the Germans were falling back before determined Red army thrusts across the Dnieper. The Nazis were counter-attacking in the Kiev area, perhaps to cover reported preparations to evacuate the Ukrainian capital, but these assaults were all beaten back.

With the collapse of the entire German line based on the Dnieper River now possible, the next natural barrier to the west is along the Bug River, 100 miles southwest of Kirov Rog, at its nearest point, where the Nazis are said to have installed an elaborate "defense in depth" to protect the Bessarabian frontier.

Battle of Italy
The American Fifth Army has made slight gains in the area

SUNNYSIDE PTA SURVEYS LUNCH PROGRAM SCENE

Questionnaires Are Used To Gauge Prospective Lunches Served

Sunnyside P.T.A. is making a survey now, to determine how many children will eat lunch at the school when serving of the hot lunches begins next Monday, it was announced today.

Questionnaires prepared by the P.T.A. were sent out to all the homes to determine how many children will eat at the school building regularly. It is estimated that at least 40 children should be served daily to help defray expenses of hiring a cook—whose salary would be approximately $18 per week one P.T.A. member said—and to finance the purchase of food, fuel and other expenses. So far, 15 questionnaires have been returned.

A report on the progress of the questionnaires was made at the first meeting of the Sunnyside P.T.A.

Membership of the organization this year is 106, an increase over last year's total of 90 members. It was reported at the meeting that receipts of the rummage sale held October 9 were $34. Receipts from redeemable sales tax stamps were announced also at the meeting—a total of $33 has been obtained from the collection of the tax stamps.

Monday of each week is designated as War Bond and Stamp Day at Sunnyside by Warren Durkee, principal. Announcement was made that Thanksgiving vacation would be November 25 and 26. The annual Christmas program of the Sunnyside P.T.A. is scheduled for December 21.

Mrs. William A. Boylan, president of the organization, introduced Durkee, the new principal at Sunnyside, and he introduced the teaching staff at the school: Mrs. Ira Baruch, substituting for Miss Kay Williams, first grade; Mrs. Robert Minshall, first and second grades; Mrs. Ted Preston, second grade; Miss Margaret Smith, third grade; Miss Maude Hughes, fourth grade; Mrs. Ethel McElwain, fifth grade and Durkee, sixth grade.

Mrs. Ted Preston told of the symposium held in the Gibson Hotel in Cincinnati last spring. The symposium, attended by over 300 people, was on the subject, "How War Is Affecting the Lives and Emotions of Our Children." Mrs. Preston said that emphasis was to be placed on geography, the four freedoms, patriotism and the good neighbor policy rather than on terrifying stories of war.

Mrs. Kenneth Pope reported on the War Convention of the Ohio Conference of P.T.A. held in Columbus at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel on September 29. The theme of the convention was "Serve That a Better World Shall Be."

Room mothers for the P.T.A. are Mrs. Richard Willis, Mrs. Ralph Lucas, Mrs. Charles E. Boggs, first grade; Mrs. Edwin Ducey, Mrs. Frank Brown, Mrs. Ralph Hickman, second grade; Mrs. Emerson Warner, Mrs. Loren Bennett, Mrs. W. W. Humphries, third grade; Mrs. Richard Waters, Mrs. Ray Mustain, fourth grade; Mrs. Kenneth Pope, Mrs. John Schiller, Mrs. Eugene Smith, Mrs. Alonzo Hart, fifth grade and Mrs. Orpha Willis and Mrs. William Boylan, sixth grade.

Mainly About People

Rev. J. H. Baughn has entered White Cross Hospital, Columbus, for observation and treatment.

Mr. F. W. Turner underwent an operation for hernia, Wednesday, in White Cross Hospital, Columbus.

Mrs. John Runyan was removed from her home on Forest Street to University Hospital, Columbus, Wednesday evening, in the Klever ambulance.

Mrs. Cho Goff was removed from her home on Oakland Avenue to White Cross Hospital, Columbus, Thursday morning, in the Cox and Parrett ambulance.

Miss Joan Wilson, 906 Clinton Avenue, a freshman, was recently accepted into the Women's Glee Club of Denison University, Granville. She is a first soprano.

Mrs. Lilly Bloomer was removed from her home in Bloomington, to St. Anthony Hospital, Columbus, for treatment for a broken hip. The trip was made in the Klever ambulance.

REQUEST MADE TO YOUNGSTERS

Window Soaping in Wartime Viewed as Unpatriotic

This is one year when the youngsters can render a patriotic service during the Halloween time if they will not soap windows or commit other acts that mean extra work during the labor shortage.

Business houses find it difficult to obtain sufficient help generally, and some of the leading business firms are asking that youngsters, as a patriotic move, not to soap windows or put other material on the windows that requires extra effort to remove.

City officials also ask boys and girls to refrain from window soaping or other actions that might cause property damage.

north of the Volturno River, it was announced today, and advanced elements are probing the region to determine exactly where the Germans are setting up their new defenses based on Massico Ridge.

The ditches and irrigation canals of this fertile, but now devastated, agricultural terrain slowed up the progress of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's troops.

On the Eighth Army front, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's troops stormed the high ground dominating the road running northwest from Vinchiato, occupied Basso, a mountain village about four miles due west of Campobasso, and swept into Oratino a few miles to the north. Basso, situated 2,400 feet above sea level, overlooks Baranello to the south.

Stabbing deeper into the Balkans than on any previous flights, American medium bombers from the Northwest African forces wrecked the roundhouse and locomotives at Nis, Yugoslavia, to lend an assist to the guerrilla forces fighting the Germans there.

Nis lies between Belgrade and Sofia and is an important junction through which the Orient Express passes. From Nis the line branches to the south to Salonika through Skopje, which recently was raided by the Northwest African air force.

Railway objectives at Nis were left a mass of flaming wreckage by the American B-25 Marauders, escorted by P-38 Lightnings.

Yank Sharpshooters

At Nis, the American aircraft left a roundhouse enveloped in flames, destroyed two locomotives and a number of freight cars in the yards, and left the tracks in the yards a twisted mass, the air command announced. They also beat up an adjoining airfield.

Photographs showed 70 bomb hits square on the target. Three big explosions sent plumes of smoke 5,000 feet high.

Several thousand Japanese and Australian troops waged a bloody battle today in the jungle a short distance north of Finschhafen, New Guinea, with the enemy on the offensive.

From strongly-held positions at Sattelberg, 15 miles inland, the Japanese achieved some success in a drive to join another force on the coast and thus form a solid line along the Song River. The river mouth, toward which the enemy is on the move, is five miles north of Finschhafen.

This counter-offensive cost the Japanese more than 200 men Tuesday in action against elements of Australia's famed Ninth Division which captured Finschhafen October 2 and before that had gained battle glory at El Alamein in Egypt against the Germans.

In the Solomons, a raiding force of more than 100 American planes added 17 more Japanese planes to the approximately 400 shot down or destroyed on the ground in the south and southwest Pacific within the past 10 days. The 17 were among 55 which challenged the raiders Monday over Ballale on Shortland Island in the northern Solomons.

Tokyo said American Liberators bombed their Gilbert Islands in the central-western Pacific.

AWARDS MADE TO API WORKERS FOR NEW IDEAS

$50 War Bond Given for Best and $25 Bond for Second, $5 for Next Two

The Aeronautical Products, Inc., today had awarded two War Bonds and two $5 War Bond credits to employees as the plan to encourage workers in the plant here to offer suggestions for increasing and improving production of precision parts for airplane engines needed in the Allied fight against Germany and Japan got under way.

Elza Arnold, a job setter on a screw machine, was presented the first $50 War Bond Tuesday by Alfred Jackson, president of the API for his ideas in the development of a new tool grinding method that increased production and improved the quality of an unidentified part.

Robert Wical, who designed accessory equipment for heat-treating and plating which would simplify and speed up the work, was awarded the first $25 War Bond.

The awards are to be made each month, it was said, under a plan in which suggestions are dropped into a box. At the end of the month Jackson, Leonard Turner, the plant manager, and Howard Newman, the chief engineer, open the box and study the suggestions and select the best one for a $50 bond, the next best for a $25 bond and two for honorable mention, which carry an award of a $5 credit for bond purchases.

Ben F. Norris, who suggested a change in processing methods to reduce re-work on part and to save metal, and Roland Chase, who designed a gauge to simplify inspection and reduce errors, were given honorable mention and the $5 bond credit.

The awards were made by Jackson in the presence of as many of the API workers as could be present. At the end of the first month of operation of plan, the API president declared that already increased production had been noted as the result of employee ideas.

All production workers and foremen are eligible to take part in the efficiency-promoting plan.

The American daylight assault on Dueren and the collateral bombing of Gilze-Rijen airbase in Holland which led the Leipzig attack yesterday in a round-the-clock double blow at Germany, brought out the largest escort of American fighters ever put up and was supplemented by RAF Spitfires.

The powerful guard took the starch out of the Germans' defensive attacks, returning fliers said in an enthusiastic report of the results of the bombing. The Dueren metal works were described as "non-ferrous" with the implication that they were making important light metal airplane parts.

The Fortress attack on Dueren was pounded home simultaneously with another U. S. raid on an enemy airfield at Gilze-Rijen, Holland.

Last night's activity came as a climax to a day throughout which Allied bombers and fighters kept up intensive attacks across the channel and shot down at least 20 German fighters.

American Thunderbolts and Spitfires formed a virtual hornet's nest around yesterday's Flying Fortress formations. The Allied fighters escorted the Fortresses to and from both of yesterday's main targets. The big bombers were credited with destroying two enemy aircraft, the Thunderbolts six and the Spitfires three.

STRIKE OF MINERS IS OUT OF CONTROL

Union Leaders Admit They Are Having Difficulties

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 21.—(AP)—District headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America called a mass meeting of all local union presidents and mine committeemen today in an effort to speed a back-to-work movement of thousands of Alabama coal miners.

"Somebody is apparently persuading the men to stay out of the mines after they voted to return to work," said James H. Terry, UMW international representative.

The week-long walkout authorized by the UMW, has resulted in an estimated production loss of 290,000 tons of coal, the shutting down of seven blast furnaces and seven hopen hearth furnaces, and has posed a threat to industrial and domestic supplies in this area.

notwithstanding Russian insistence on the immediate opening of a front in western Europe. The assertion earlier this week by Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa, that a "grand assault" on Hitler's European fortress would be made in 1944 seemed to dispose of that issue so far as London is concerned.

Although the conference is one of diplomatic personalities, this does not preclude the generals who accompanied U. S. Secretary of State Hull and British Foreign Secretary Eden from explaining the reasons for the delay in an amphibious attack from the west.

The British recognize, however, that military strategy must figure in the discussions to the extent that the timely defeat of Germany is essential to the application of any pre-arranged plan for political reform in that country.

It is estimated that in 1943 American civilians have $45,000,000,000 more to spend than there are goods and services available for purchase.

Prussian Military Clique Begins To Ease Hitler Out Now That Nazi Defeat Looms

It looks as though the Prussian military clique has a foot in Hitler's stirrup, if indeed the High Command isn't already in the all highest's saddle.

This column some time ago suggested that the Prussian war lords were likely to take over control when the military situation reached a point where they saw little or no chance for victory. I said they would maneuver for a peace which would enable them to salvage all they could from the wreckage of Hitler's dream of world domination.

We already have passed the point where Germany's defeat became certain. Now the official German News Agency (DNB) reports the holding of a conference which was attended by ranking officers of the High Command, many commanding officers, and by "leading personalities of the state and party." And that conference was called not by the Fuehrer but by Field Marshal General Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the High Command and essence of Prussian militarism.

European observers said the conference appeared to be trying to shore up civilian morale and devise means of meeting the military crisis. Hitler made a speech after the conference, but what he said wasn't disclosed.

At about the time this meeting was held, Swedish newspaper correspondents were reporting—and their dispatches were passed by the German censor—that the Reich was seeing its blackest days of the war thus far because of the major break by the Reds through the Nazi line in Russia. The correspondent of the Stockholm Aftonbladet said if the Soviet forces can follow up this success, the "Germans realize it can't mean anything but a catastrophe that would put Stalingrad in a shadow."

Over in London meantime South Africa's grand old soldier and statesman, Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, was throwing a different shot of the same picture on the screen. Said he:

"Hitler is no longer fighting for victory, but for time—for something to happen—for those accidents which so often upset the run of events. His only hope now is to prolong the war on the off chance of something happening; some new weapon; perhaps some difference among the Allies; war weariness coming to his assistance and producing a stalemate and a compromise peace."

Certainly the complexion of the Nazi conference would support that thesis. It was an extraordinary assemblage for war-time and spoke clearly of a great crisis. Perhaps the most significant fact of all, however, was that this big meeting was called by Keitel and not by the Fuehrer who claims that he was divinely ordained to lead the German people.

The sixty-one year old Keitel is the mystery man of the High Command—mysterious because he keeps his own counsel and lets others do the talking. Because of this characteristic he has been compared to Field Marshal Von Moltke, generalissimo in the Franco-Prussian War of 1870, who was known as "the great silent one." Keitel

RESTAURANTS ARE INSPECTED FOR SAFETY

State Inspector Orders Doors To Swing Out for Fire Safety

As a result of an inspection of all restaurants and grills with seating capacity of 100 or more and of the rest homes here, Deputy State Building Inspector George P. Thompson has notified all eating places of the capacity inspected here that they must provide outward swinging doors, Fire Chief George Hall said.

Hall explained that two such restaurants, Stone's Grill and Bryant's Restaurant, had already complied with the regulations but that other eating places had received verbal orders to install outward swinging doors. He indicated that written orders would come from the state department of building inspection in anywhere from two weeks to 30 days.

"Because of the war, the safety law has been modified to the extent that if a restaurant or grill has two or more outlets without using kitchen entrances, no other doors are required, the law is lenient, considering the shortage of materials and workmen, but strict compliance with the law is required to promote safety," he said.

The law requiring outward swinging doors was instituted here after the Coconut Grove night club fire in Boston when nearly 500 lives were lost because entrances were blocked, locked or because doors did not swing outward, Hall explained.

"It is against the law to put any locks, clasps or hooks on exit doors other than the regulation locks," Hall declared.

Hall continued to say that all rest homes must have doors swinging outward and that a fire escape must be provided if patients are housed on the second floor of rest homes.

typifies the Prussian military tradition, although he is of Saxon descent.

The chief of the High Command had been a professional soldier—and a good one—since his youth. He has been Hitler's right-hand military man since the Fuehrer seized power, and rarely has been absent from important international events affecting German military interests.

The Field Marshal was the pivotal man in the remilitarization of Germany.

Keitel always has had the reputation of being loyal to his friends. He has stood by Hitler and there's no reason to assume that he won't do all he can to save the Nazi chief from suffering as the ax falls.

Still, the bombastic all high-est is just a mushroom in the field of Prussian militarism. The militarists—whom President Roosevelt has promised will be torn up by the roots—will try to save themselves and their type of Germany in this emergency. What happens to the Fuehrer is his own bad luck.

Mrs. Belle Thompson

WCTU Meets

The WCTU met at the home of Mrs. Belle Thompson with 15 members in attendance. Mrs. Bertha Hoppess was guest for the afternoon. The house was decorated throughout with the last of the season's flowers. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. E. R. Rector. A song, "Go Forth and Seed Be Sowing," was sung, then prayer by Mrs. Mina Morris. Miss Maud Wood had charge of devotionals. She chose as her text the fifth chapter of Daniel and discussed freely on different verses. Miss Icy Allen, former president, was program leader, subject, "Drink and Defeat." Three very interesting papers were read by Mrs. Mina Morris, Mrs. Nan Grimm and Mrs. Kate Bush. All enjoyed the social hour as light refreshments were served, carrying out suggestions of the Halloween season.

P. T. A.

A large crowd is expected at the first meeting of the Parent-Teacher Organization next Wednesday at 8:15 P. M. President Roxie Morgan and her committee have planned an important business session and an interesting program for the evening. Mrs. Dunkel, music teacher, is in charge of the program which will include several of the pupils of Mrs. Anna Creamer. Several movie shorts will also be shown.

School News

An assembly program was held Wednesday at the Jeffersonville High School under direction of Mr. Boring. Bill Allen capably served as master of ceremonies. New song sheets were issued which resulted in the best singing they have had so far. Marshall Jones, pinch hitting for the scheduled speaker gave two readings, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" and, as an encore, "Parody on the Psalm of Life." Mrs. Dunkel gave a solo which was enjoyed by all. Mr. Post gave a resume of the basketball season. Phillis Dill performed an unrehearsed tap dance. The program closed with singing of the high school song.

Silver Skates

Last Monday the senior class sponsored a skating party. The junior class was invited and a large portion of both classes attended. Many had never been on skates before but they "caught on" quickly after a few figure eights on "not the skates." Everyone present had his or her share of thrills and spills.

Await Championship Cups

Jeffersonville is anxiously awaiting the arrival of two baseball cups. The cups are for the county baseball championship won by Jeffersonville last year and this year. These cups will add much to the appearance of their trophy case.

Aid Meeting

Mrs. Lohr Ervin was a gracious hostess to 16 members of the Grassy Point Aid. Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Irene Roddy and baby daughter. A covered dish dinner was served at the noon hour. Mrs. Ervin was ably assisted by Mrs. Bertha Roberts and Mrs. Ruth Custer. In the absence of the president, Mrs.

Slender one-piece styles that look serene and lovely with charming details to emphasize the new slim lines. See these new frocks, styled in the Austelle manner. You'll love them! 12-20.

Ola Custer presided. Devotionals were conducted by Mrs. Eva Shaffer. Alternate reading and singing by Mrs. Ola Custer and Mrs. Ruth Custer furnished a new and much enjoyed devotional period. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Henry, having had their home destroyed by fire, were presented with a lovely double blanket. Mrs. Eva Shaffer sponsored two very interesting contests. Those enjoying the day were Mesdames Mae Moore, Daisy Mock, Ida Roberts, Nell Davidson, Coral Thompson, Thelma Porter, Bessie McChesney, Lena Johnston, Ola Custer, Bertha Roberts, Minnie Thomas, Helen Rihl, Eva Shaffer, Mary McKenzie and the hostess. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Hallie Miller, assisted by Mrs. Coral Thompson.

Priscilla Club

The Priscilla Club met at the country home of Mrs. Etna Coil. A potluck dinner is always served at the noon hour and informal visiting is enjoyed by all. Those present were Marie Acton, Eva Porter, Mary Marshall, Blanch Ritenour, Grace Cannon. Guests were Virginia Coil, Bess Wright, Donnie Ritenour of Toledo and the hostess.

Personals

Mrs. Donald Ritenour came along with the Misses Louise and Heleh Fultz from Toledo and all enjoyed the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Ritenour and Mrs. L. O. Fultz.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stackhouse and son, Dwight, of Springfield, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Porter. Sgt. Dale Roush is home on furlough to attend the funeral of his uncle, Mr. Elliott Roush. Sgt. Roush is stationed at Fredricksburg, Va. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Roush of the Roush Restaurant, and sister, Roma Jean, will be very happy to have him for a 15 day furlough.

Carl Snyder and Junior Mitchell are leaving Thursday for induction at the Great Lakes Training Center.

Mrs. Dena Ervin is spending the winter at the home of Mrs. Daisy Mock.

Mrs. Will Mettler and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Crawford of Detroit were house guests for several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Korn. Marvin Dement, who is now attending Ohio State University, has received five credit hours after taking an English placement test and receiving an exceptionally high grade. This achievement has placed him in an advanced English class.

NOW IS TIME TO BUY CHRISTMAS GIFT WAR BONDS

Final Report on War Loan Drive Comes Next Week

"Now is the time to anticipate buying bonds for Christmas gifts," F. E. Hill, chairman of the War Finance Committee here, said today. "If you give War Bonds and Stamps for Christmas gifts, you will be giving one of the most tangible gifts possible. With prices and quality of merchandise as they are now, bonds are a sensible gift."

Hill continued to say that although the Third War Loan Drive is over, buying bonds through payroll deduction and outside investments should continue. "You and Mrs. Russell Mitchell and Jack were Columbus visitors Sunday and called at the hospital to see Junior Satterfield, who was seriously hurt.

can't find a better investment for any extra money you may have than bonds."

He said that at the last report received by him, over $916,000 had been subscribed during the Third War Loan drive, but explained that complete figures from the Federal Reserve Bank in Cleveland would not be received here until the last of next week.

Figures sent from the bank in Cleveland will include bonds bought during the drive by residents of Fayette County who were not in the county at the time they purchased their bonds, such as workers in defense plants in Dayton and Columbus, it was explained.

THE OLD PROPAGANDA
Herr Goebbels commands the German people not to talk of German defeats or even to look depressed. Why worry, the Nazi propaganda ministry asks, because the Huns have evacuated more than 300,000 square miles of "debris" in Russia?
A year ago Nazi armies were battering the doors of Stalingrad, and Herr Hitler promised that the Volga city was about to fall. Now the Russians are surging back into White Russia. Literally millions of Germans lie dead beside those "heaps of debris in the east."
If Goebbels can force the home folk to refrain from talking about German defeats, from looking depressed, then we are wrong, and there is a super-race.

WHAT DOES RUSSIA WANT?
In an attempt to clarify what many consider the puzzle of Russia's attitude toward post-war collaboration with the other United Nations, James B. Reston, head of the New York Times' London bureau, has produced a thought-provoking piece based upon "the conclusions of the most responsible sources open to this correspondent" in the British capital.
Superficially the analysis is reassuring, but throughout run disturbing undertones. Putting these together, it appears that the highest British diplomatic thought foresees trouble with Russia—unless—

Russia, says Reston, is believed to feel that her long-range security demands that she take over the Baltic states; part of Poland, including Vilna and Lwow; sufficient Finnish territory to protect the Gulf of Finland and Leningrad; Bessarabia and parts of Bukovina now in Rumania; and access to the Mediterranean and through the Persian Gulf.
If we and Britain are willing to let Russia keep these territories, there is nothing that Premier Stalin would like better than to cooperate with us in a post war world authority to guarantee peace.

If we won't make these initial concessions, then Stalin is preparing his alternative plan, which includes the communizing of Germany and, presumably, an evangelistic communistic program generally throughout the international field.

Mr. Reston did a good job of objective reporting. So he did not note what immediately comes to mind—that the Atlantic Charter, and the democratic doctrine of both Britain and the United States, would be violated to the point of destruction if we were to concede Russia's right to take such small nations, and parts of others, as she decided she would like. When Neville Chamberlain (remember him—the man with the umbrella) gave in thus to Hitler, we called it appeasement, and hissed.

So what are we going to do if Russia insists upon such appeasement, as an alternative to going her own way after the war and attempting to communize Eu-

"There are men sleeping in here." "Sleeping?" yelled the Sergeant. "Get those gold bricks out here and fall in." The unidentified man disappeared into the barracks and later emerged in his flight officer's uniform to announce the sleeping men had just finished a night flying mission. Before guardhouse lawyers, after he had made his apologies, Sgt. Joe demanded, "How was I to know he was an officer?" "He was wearing garters, wasn't he?" a private replied.

SIMPLIFY TAXES

Whatever is done about new taxes, citizens by millions feverently hope and pray for one great boon—they want them easy to understand!

This last mess the nation got itself into is a fine example of how not to do it. There was an income tax. Then there was a victory tax. Then there was a plan for pay-as-you-go. But some people thought that must be wrong because it seemed to "forgive" something. So the forgivers and the nonforgivers thought they had to compromise. This half pay-as-you-go combined with the other half of pay-as-you-don't go added to the other messes and mixtures, are just too much. Ordinary folks cannot understand them. Can the law-makers? It's doubtful.

Let's have a tax that is a tax this time—something that may hurt us in the purse but will not hurt us in the head. If some power could make the national administration and legislators forget elections, and say, "Here's a war and we've got to pay for it. Make every earner pay his share. Let him kick, but tell him the harder he pays now the quicker the misery will be over. Let him know clearly how much and when." Wouldn't it be wonderful?

Washington at a Glance

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — In spite of the fact that Japanese propaganda provides a lot of snickers (boys back from the Pacific tell me that they listen constantly to the Nip radio for first the good American dance band music, but secondly for the laughs they get out of Jap efforts to discourage or frighten them) the Administration had to make two major moves recently to block it.
In the first instance the Jap beat us to a draw and badly. No sooner had President Roosevelt asked Congress to give him the right to establish Philippine independence the moment the time is ripe instead of waiting for 1946, than Tokyo announced the immediate independence of the Philippines.
That is a laugh, but don't think it isn't an effective propaganda weapon. By merely relaxing some military regulations over the Philippine civilian population and tossing the ball to puppet leaders, they can create a semblance of independence that might leave many civilians there with little heart for seeing their islands again a battleground.
The second move to cut out a Jap propaganda cancer came when, with Administration urging, the House Rules Committee cleared the way for a vote on the Magnuson bill, which would repeal the Chinese exclusion act.
No single move by our government or statute on our books has provided the Japanese with such an effective propaganda weapon as the act by which the Chinese, out of all the peoples in the world, are forbidden entry to these shores and of course denied the right of naturalized citizenship.
Both editorially here and among supporters of the Magnuson bill on the hill, the Chinese exclusion act has been deplored as one of the most antiquated and unfair laws on the books. Its inception was, perhaps, almost a humanitarian measure, for it came when western employers were importing Chinese coolies by the boat load. They were, virtually, slave labor and in some sections so upset wage scale as to reduce American labor to pauperism.

Those were the lush days of immigration. Immigration quotas have been shaved and shaved until today, if the Magnuson bill passes, as most observers are positive it will, the Chinese under present quotas could enter only at the rate of 105 a year.
In view of this and of the damage the act has done in our relations with our ally, it is difficult to see how there could be strong objection to its repeal.
Two amendments to the Magnuson bill that are almost certain to come to a vote are those which would (1) cut all immigration quotas in one-half for 10 years; and (2) (offered by Representative Martin Dies, of Texas) suspend all immigration for the duration.
Whether either would provide the Japs with an alternative propaganda weapon is hard to say, but propagandists here are deploring the fact that any amendment has to be considered along with outright appeal of the Chinese exclusion act.

Penicillin of Value in Many Diseases

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.
THIS COLUMN has always tried to be conservative and to wait until any new remedy has been properly tested before making any statement about it. We may miss some sensational stories that way, but we also avoid fooling our readers with false hopes. In the case of penicillin, we can now make a statement.

It would have been very silly to make a newspaper announcement any sooner, because for the average person the drug has not been available even if the indications for its use were plain. A physician with one of the largest practices on the West Coast, well-known in medical circles, told me the other day that he had a patient who was in his opinion an ideal case for penicillin and wrote for some: he received a reply that his application had been put on file, but that it was improbable that it would be available for general use for about six weeks.

Penicillin a Fungus
Penicillin (it is pronounced, I understand, as if you were going to say "pen" and had a stutter), to make a brief summary of its status, is a mold, or fungus. It is used much as the sulfa drugs are used to stop the growth of germs and infection in the body, only the germs it affects are different from those against which the sulfa drugs are so effective. It is especially good on wounds and burns. War wounds treated in a Utah army hospital have shown phenomenally good results.

Penicillin is not really a brand new drug. In 1929 an English scientist, Dr. A. Fleming, was working in his laboratory with cultures of staphylococcus, the germ that often causes blood poisoning and wound infections. He was growing it on bouillon, much like der way Thursday and men's schedule will open Monday.

ASK ADAM
RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION
WATKINS E. WRIGHT

CHAPTER FORTY-ONE
THEN CAME the cue for Adam's scene with Susan Potter. He made his entrance, hoping that he could get under the part and really be the character he was playing. Not altogether because he wanted to be a success as an actor but because he honestly wanted to forget unpleasant realities.
"Hello, sweetness!" he said to Susan, who was now portraying the role of Lila. "You look sweet enough to eat!"
"Thanks," said Susan, alias Lila. "I feel like a green persimmon."
"How's that?"
"All shriveled up—like a green persimmon makes your mouth feel 'fucked'—you know."
"Sure, I know," Adam said, taking the girl into his arms. "But don't let what kid sister did get you down. I still love you—always will."
"Oh, darling, and me such a pain in the neck. Kiss me!"
And Adam did.
"No, no, NO," said Mrs. Platt, interrupting again. "Not like that!"
Adam stopped kissing and looked at the woman. "What's wrong with it?" he demanded.
"You're in love with her, Adam," said Mrs. Platt. "She's not your sister."
"Yes, but—"
"Put more fire in it," Mrs. Platt went on. She glanced at Jack. "Good heavens, what's come over you two men? You kissing Susan like a brother, and Jack kissing Ruth like a sweetheart. Each of you could teach the other something. Now do it again."
"Okay," said Adam. He took Susan in his arms once more. And this time he kissed her as a girl should be kissed by the man who loves her—kissed her long and hard, directly on the lips. It was pleasant, too, he thought, even as he struggled to recall his next line. "Dearest, it's no use," he said, remembering the line at last. "I can't go on living without you!"
"Splendid!" said Mrs. Platt. "Now go on from there."
Ruth Moorehouse turned away. She couldn't bear to look. It was too much, much too much. Adam kissing Susan like that—and her a married woman. Even in a play it was almost disgusting. She had been pleased when Adam had shown so little warmth, feeling that maybe she was wrong about him—and now look at him! She wished Bill Potter would walk in at that very moment and raise the devil. He certainly ought to take Susan Potter across his knee and spank her...
But Bill Potter was busily occupied at that moment.
He was sitting in his office poring over a lot of papers, and deeds, and copies of wills an old lawyer had turned over to him. They all had to do with the Johnson family and the old deserted farm. He was trying to discover how and where to go about purchasing the property.

"I reckon," the lawyer had drawled, "the only way is to put the property up for sale to cover back taxes—and there sure are a lot of them—and then you can bid it in."
"If we can't manage any other way," said Bill, "we'll do that. Meanwhile, I'll see what I can do about locating a Johnson some place."
"All right, son," the lawyer said. "Just let me know what you decide to do."
And now, close to midnight, Bill sat staring at a document, a bill headed beginning to develop. And he was still in the dark as to the whereabouts of the Johnsons, as well as to information regarding the present owner of the land. That wasn't all that gave him a headache. There was Alicia Carter. She had promised to let him know definitely about her property over in Elmwood—had said she would contact him after she'd talked with a lawyer friend in Richmond. And this she hadn't done. Drat the woman! She was just about as reliable as the weather. In fact, darn all women—not excepting his wife.
The idea of Susan making a fool of herself on the stage with that Adam North. That one rehearsal he had seen was enough to convince him that he and other married men had been wrong—far, far wrong—about the North guy. All the fellow had needed to start something with one of Linville's wives was the opportunity to get her in his arms—and then there was born a combination Casanova, Lochinvar, Lord Chesterfield, Romeo, and—Tyrone Power. Come to think of it, Adam North DID look a little like that matinee idol of a movie actor. Not quite so tall, maybe, but like him in other ways. Take away the man's slight limp, and darned if he wouldn't be a downright menace—that's what! A potential home-wrecker, no less.
Bill looked at his watch. He pushed the papers he'd been poring over into a drawer, closed it and looked it. Then he got his hat and started home. If Alicia Carter didn't telephone him by noon the next day he would telephone her and tell her the whole thing was off. Then he'd tell the old lawyer to go ahead and see what he could do about selling the Johnson farm for taxes. Darned good location out there for the cottages he had in mind. He must be feeble-minded not to have realized it before.
Funny thing, though, that business of seeing the men unloading stuff at the old boat landing. And he had seen them. He'd been stone sober, for all of Ken Randolph's kidding, and he had good eyes. Yet there was nothing out there that had been unloaded. Or if there had been something unloaded, it had been put back into the boat. Certainly there was nothing in the house, the barn, nor any of the many out-houses. He had searched them all thoroughly.
He turned a corner and could see his own house a little way down the street. He could also see a couple at the gate. He stopped, stared and frowned. Susan and Adam! Standing there beside the gate like a pair of lovers! He quickened his step. But Adam tipped his hat to Susan and strode off before he could join them.

Susan looked up and saw him. "Hello, darling!" she said. "My, you DID work late!"
"Yes," said Bill. He glared off in the direction Adam North had taken. "Seems to me you folks are overdoing this rehearsing business."
"Oh, no," said Susan. "We want to be letter-perfect."
"Darned silly. If you ask me."
"I'm not asking you," returned Susan, and smiled again. "We all want Peter's play to go over successfully—for his sake, his mother's, and for the sake of the money we hope to take in."
"I suppose you'll expect me to come."
"Certainly! And sit right down front where you can give me encouragement."
"As if you needed it," growled Bill.
"What do you mean?"
"Skip it," Bill opened the gate. "Come on, it's high time both of us were in bed. This business of having you rehearsing nights, and coming home late from the factory days, is getting my goat."
"But I'm being of service," said Susan. "I'm really a sort of cog in the war machinery."
"Nuts!" said Bill inelegantly. "How much longer are you going to slave in that hot mill cafeteria?"
"I don't slave, and it's not hot," said Susan. "Adam's had a new electric fan placed right over my desk. So I'm cool, and I enjoy the work-loads."
"Very well," said Bill. "Then how much longer do you intend keeping cool in a factory, and enjoying your work-loads?"
"Until Adam's satisfied I've got things so that the help can run them along the lines I've planned."
Bill felt anger rising deep within him. Adam and Susan. Adam a fellow would think Adam was tops in Susan's life, and not her husband. Susan with Adam all day, trotting to his office for this and for that—and then playing love scenes with him at night. The devil and Tom Walker! What in heck had come over everybody, anyway! "Are you coming to bed or not?" he said crossly. He stood with his hand on the knob and watched Susan gazing up into the sky. "What's so interesting up there?"
"The stars," said Susan. "I never saw them look so lovely. They are a sort of greenish color—like emeralds."
"Okay, so they're like emeralds," said Bill. "But don't forget you're a war worker—not a star gazer."
Susan laughed softly. "So I am!" she said, and followed her husband into the house.

WILLKIE LAYS PLANS TO SEEK PRESIDENCY

Formal Entry Expected After Series of Speeches

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—(P)—Wendell L. Willkie will speak in the politically important states of New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts within the next few weeks, but it is not expected by his friends to formally enter the race for the Republican presidential nomination until sometime after the first of the year.

This much became known last night after the 1940 GOP standard bearer addressed an informal off-the-record meeting of freshmen Republican congressmen and then submitted to more than an hour's questioning on international, domestic and political affairs that gave him the appearance later of having just emerged from a wrestling match.
He appeared at the closed session of the "78 Club," the first term House members Tuesday evening. And for two hours running past midnight he talked with newspapermen—still off the record.

As at St. Louis, Willkie was reported to have said he would support for the Republican nomination only a man who felt as he did on the need for strong international cooperation after the war.

MUSSOLINI TO QUIT AS FASCIST CHIEF

BERN, SWITZERLAND, Oct. 21—(P)—A Budapest dispatch to the Swiss newspaper gazette De Lausanne said today Benito Mussolini had indicated his intention to resign as head of Italy's "Fascist Republican government" and had asked the directors of the party in Berlin to name Marshal Rodolfo

Granziani as his successor.

The dispatch said the former duce had left Germany, although he was reported to have returned to Rome from Germany after his "liberation" by Nazi paratroopers.

From where I sit...
by Joe Marsh
Ned Buxton was home on furlough last week. And you ought to see the fuss the town made over him. Seems like almost everybody wanted to give a party, or a testimonial dinner, or stage something special in his honor of celebration.
Of course, Ned acted grateful. But he told me later all he really wanted was to sit down with a few old friends, enjoy a glass of beer or two, and talk about old times again.
I guess that's how many soldiers feel. They don't want a lot of fuss made over them, with formal celebrating and such.
What they really like are the simple pleasures—one of Mom's home-cooked meals, visiting with friends over a glass of beer—enjoying things that mean home and comfort and security.
From where I sit, our biggest job, apart from helping win the war, is making sure those things are waiting for our men when they come back home for good.

Gentlemen's Night and Box Supper Held by Mothers' Circle Wednesday Evening

Members of the Mother's Circle and their husbands met at the home of Mrs. N. M. Reiff at 6:30 Wednesday night for the annual gentlemen's night and box supper. A Halloween theme was used in the decorations, lighted by two Jack-o-lanterns at either side of the door.

Mr. Leonard Korn conducted the evening's discussion on discipline and presented his opinions on the subject, which were that the father of the family should have 50 percent of the discipline of the children. He added that the mother usually took care of the discipline, however, and sent the father away while reprimands were administered. But, he declared, when the father does take over the disciplinary reins, the mother spends her time making up with the children afterwards.

A round-table discussion on the subject was held after Mr. Korn had given his opinions. On the program committee with Mr. Korn were Mr. Carroll Halliday, Mr. John Leland, Mr. Forrest Hill, Mr. R. T. Andrews and Mr. Fred Rost. Every man present participated in the discussion.

Mr. Harold Craig acted as auctioneer at the box supper preceding the meeting. The proceeds from the sale went to the Mother's Circle treasury. The purchaser of each box ate with the woman who had packed it.

At a short business session, it was reported that two $25 War Bonds had been purchased by the club.

Mr. Marlyn Riley and Mr. Ben Norris each won prizes for participating in a stunt in which each man dressed in women's clothes before the rest of the people at the meeting.

A shoe mix-up game was another amusing feature of the evening's entertainment.

Circle 15 of Grace Methodist Church

Circle 15 of the Grace Methodist Church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Marvin Thornburg, with Miss Evelyn Mossbarger as assisting hostess. Twenty members were present and a potluck supper was served at six-thirty o'clock. Buffet style in the dining room. The serving table was perfectly appointed and centered with a lovely bouquet of fall flowers, flanked by tall burning tapers.

Following the congenial supper, the guests assembled in the living room for the business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. Billie Wilson. Devotions were given by Mrs. Thornburg, "Our Gifts to God," followed by the secretary and treasurer's report by Miss Evelyn Mossbarger and Mrs. Wendell White-side.

Miss Lillian Teeters, supply secretary, then read several letters from various people, and it was then motioned and passed that a Christmas box be sent to Delma Jo Howard, a little girl in Kentucky which the society is clothing and putting through school.

The nominating committee was appointed to elect the officers at the November meeting. They are Miss Mary Reser, Mrs. William Robinson and Mrs. Norris Highfield.

Mrs. Marlyn Riley, program chairman, then took charge of the program which proved to be very interesting to the gathering. She was assisted by five other members. The program was closed with a poem by Elizabeth Barrett Browning, read by Mrs. Riley.

Mrs. Billie Wilson closed the meeting with prayer.

VFW Auxiliary Meeting

The VFW Auxiliary held their regular business meeting at Memorial Hall, Wednesday evening, with the president, Mrs. Mable Whitmer, presiding over the business session.

Mrs. Burnett Hyer was taken into the organization as a new member during the course of the evening.

Plans were made for the Halloween potluck to be held at the home of Mrs. Jack Orr, on Yeoman Street, Friday evening, at six-thirty o'clock.

Dinner Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Comery and sons, Floyd and Jimmie, Mrs. Pauline Fannin, Mrs. Lou Hermon and grandson, Clayton, of Bethel, Miss Faye Stegall of this city, and Mr. "Boss" Sears of Jeffersonville, were recent dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Stegall and family of Jeffersonville.

Musical Notes

The Cecilian Music Club is among upward of 120 senior music organizations and 130 junior music clubs in Ohio which have been moving forward in the face of difficulties caused by the war, and following the motto "Music For Morale."

The Ohio Federation of Music Clubs has pledged $750 for music and musical instruments for the Fletcher General Army Hospital at Cambridge, Ohio. Mrs. William G. Wandel, 2043 Westmeyer Road, Toledo, O., is chairman of the War Service Committee now engaged in raising funds which will be expended for hymnals, music magazines, books on music, records, collections of band, song, piano, male choruses, etc., instruments and miscellaneous equipment, for the convalescent service men.

The annual state convention of the Ohio Federation of Music Clubs will be held at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel in Columbus, April 27 and 28, and delegates will be sent from this city.

Members of the Cecilian Music Club will attend the District Convention of the Ohio Federation of Music Clubs, to be held in the near future. The conventions have been announced as follows and a good representation is expected regardless of war conditions: South East District, Lancaster, October 23; North West District, Toledo, October 27; Mid-

Various Circles of Grace Methodist Church Held October Session Wednesday

The fourteen circles of the Woman's Society of Christian Service held their meetings, Wednesday, in various places, the church, or home, to take up the business for the October meeting.

CIRCLE ONE
Circle One of Grace Methodist Church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Cordelia McCafferty with the leader, Mrs. E. E. Johnson, in charge of the business meeting.

Devotions were given by Mrs. W. S. Foutch entitled, "Harvest Time," followed by the brief business session in charge of the leader, Mrs. Johnson.

During the afternoon of sewing on the comfort top being made by the society, music via a victrola was listened to, and a delightful hour of sewing and visiting was enjoyed.

CIRCLE TWO
Circle Two of Grace Methodist Church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. E. leader, in charge of the brief Summers, with Mrs. A. W. Duff, business session. Mrs. Jean Nisley gave the devotions followed by two piano solos capably given by Mrs. Rex Pittenger.

To close the program, the chairman, Mrs. Ola Boyer, read two interesting articles.

Following the business session, Mrs. Summers invited her guests to the dining room, where a lovely tea table was arranged for the serving of numerous tea delicacies, Mrs. A. W. Duff pouring.

CIRCLE THREE
Circle Three met at the home of Mrs. Henry Brownell, Jr., Wednesday afternoon and following the brief business session in charge of the leader, Mrs. Tom Bush, devotions were given by Mrs. Forest Hill.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in comfort knotting and counting tax stamps.

During the course of the afternoon it was decided to hold the next circle meeting as a joint meeting with Circle Eight, November 16, and will be a potluck supper at the home of Mrs. N. M. Reiff.

Members of the Circle had brought canned goods to the meeting to be sent to the Deaconess Home in Columbus, and this was disposed of.

During the social hour, Mrs. Brownell, assisted by her daughter, Portia, served a dessert course, informally.

CIRCLE FIVE
Circle Five of Grace Methodist Church met Wednesday afternoon in the church basement, with the leader, Mrs. Martin Hughey, in charge of the brief business, and devotions.

Following the business meeting, the remainder of the afternoon was spent in counting tax stamps.

It was decided to hold a rummage sale, November 6. The place will be announced later.

CIRCLE SEVEN
Circle Seven of Grace Methodist Church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Horatio Wilson, with Miss Fannie McLean, leader, in charge of the business session.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Charles Gestner followed by the business session.

Mrs. McLean then introduced Mrs. G. B. Parkin, who gave a very interesting address on the work of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. Miss Mae Street then read an article entitled, "Sarah," a word sketch of this biblical character.

Mrs. Wilson then invited the members to the dining room where a lovely tea table, covered with a hand crocheted table cloth and centered with an artistic arrangement of snapdragons, flanked by burning tapers, was placed for the serving.

During the afternoon, a completed comfort was presented the society by Mrs. John Sollars, and this is the fifth comfort the circle has made.

CIRCLE EIGHT
Circle Eight of Grace Methodist Church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Buchanan and the leader, Mrs. Norman McLean, was unable to be present, so the assisting leader, Mrs. Buchanan took charge of the meeting.

Devotions were given by Mrs. R. Clayton Sexton followed by the business meeting.

Following the session, the remainder of the afternoon was spent in counting tax stamps, collected by the society.

At the close of the afternoon, light refreshments were served.

CIRCLE NINE
Circle 9 of Grace Methodist Church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. O. Riber, with the leader Mrs. C. E. Lloyd, in charge of the meeting.

Devotions were given by Miss Margaret Ashley followed by the business session.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in counting stamps collected by the society to be used for charity work.

At the close of the afternoon, tempting refreshments were served by the hostess, using a Halloween motif.

Only 18 Local Men Now Left In Old Company M

OLD ONG OUTFIT LEFT FOR CAMP ON OCT. 24, 1940

Original Members Are Widely Scattered Throughout War Areas

Three years ago on October 24, Company M, Ohio National Guard, of this city, departed for Camp Shelby, Miss., for training, and today the original company is widely scattered with only 18 of the men from this community still enrolled in the outfit.

At present the company, with a captain from Shreveport, La., in command, is located at Fort Sill, Okla., undergoing special training with an additional department added, and may be sent overseas in the near future.

It is a machine gun company, and also has trench mortars and other equipment, making it one of the hardest hitting outfits of the army set-up.

Company M was inducted into federal service October 15, 1940, drilled here until the 24th and then boarded a special train for Camp Shelby.

It was apparent even then that the U. S. was rapidly being drawn into the vortex of the second World War, and the National Guard was the first group trained for active duty in addition to the regular army.

Three thousand persons assembled at the B. and O. Station here and gave the company, in active command of Lieut. C. V. Sexton, a rousing farewell. The Washington C. H. High School Band played patriotic airs, and the company was cheered as it marched to the station to embark.

After lengthy training at Camp Shelby, and having an important part in the extensive maneuvers in Louisiana, Mississippi and other states, the company was sent to the New Orleans area to do guard duty.

Later it was sent to Florida and was stationed there for some time, then returned to Camp Shelby for two months, before being sent to Fort Sill, Okla.

Many of the men were assigned to other outfits for special training and some of them are in the Southern Pacific, others in the Panama Canal Zone, and still others at various points.

So far no members of the company have been lost in action. A few days ago quite a number of the old members of Company M, with three years of regular army duty to their credit in addition to the time spent as members of the National Guard, arrived home for a few days before returning to Fort Sill for additional training.

Those here at the present time are: First Sergeant L. G. Williams; Staff Sergeant Harry Shoop; Sergeant Dale Snyder; Sergeant Kermit Allen; Corporal Forest Cash and Private Merle Kinnison; Staff Sergeant Walter Kelly, and Staff Sergeant James R. Evans.

It will be recalled that some of the first inductees from Fayette County were sent to Camp Shelby and became a part of Company M.

Red Cross At The Front In South Pacific Area Boy From Here Writes

"I wish you could see the job the American Red Cross is doing out here on the battlefield," Chief Warrant Officer Carl S. Mallow, Jr., wrote to the Red Cross chapter here. Mallow, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Mallow, Sr., 641 South Fayette Street, is in the combat zone in the South Pacific.

"Some of you may be under the impression that the Red Cross out here is busy itself with activities similar to those of the USO back home. Such is far from the case. The Red Cross representative who is with us at this particular spot and who works very close to me told me that he had the opportunity of staying behind in New Zealand for the duration. He volunteered, in fact, demanded to be sent to the combat zone.

"The hospitals, of course, are forever grateful for the blood plasma which the Red Cross helps collect back home. Many many lives have been saved in the hospitals and on the very front itself because a quart of plasma was available at the right time.

"In addition, the Red Cross has been working with a casual company. Men come back from the front, their ears ringing, their heads dizzy with the sounds of war. No one can describe what those men went through, or how tired they are. The Red Cross man is set up in a little tent just adjacent to ours. He passes out candy, cards, games, some reading material.

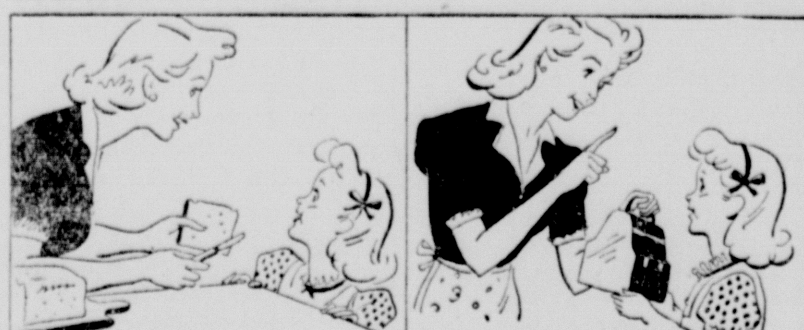

"He goes to bat for a worried soldier who has heard some distressing news from home. He makes arrangements for the local Red Cross to secure information for this soldier. He furnished the men with tooth brushes when no one else could obtain them. I even saw him one day take in tow two soldiers who were unable to write with a pencil; they just couldn't hold anything steady enough to write. He sat down with

SMALLEY TELLS HOW IT FEELS TO GO OVERSEAS

Pfc. Paul A. Smalley Writes That He Hopes To Vote In Next Election

Instead of a blood-and-thunder story of battles, Pfc. Paul A. Smalley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton E. Smalley, 307 South North Street, writes of his feelings at the prospect of going overseas soon. Pvt. Smalley will be 21 in December and has been in the Army for eight months.

At first he was in the infantry, but is now in an Army ground force replacement depot—at a camp he does not mention. Pvt. Smalley wrote the following letter to Miss Mabel Briggs, his Sunday School teacher.

"We've been issued New Testaments and a group of six pamphlets by the USO, YMCA, and the Salvation Army.

"Some of the names of these books are 'New Battlefields,' 'Onward Christian Soldiers,' 'Think of These Things,' 'The Service Book of Scripture Prayer and Hymns' and 'If You Go Overseas.'"

"I'd like to tell you about this book on going overseas." Pvt. Smalley wrote and included an excerpt from the book in his letter, which read:

"First will come miles, days, weeks of water, probably more water than you ever imagined could exist. Then new islands, new countries, new kinds of people—people that are different.

"It will be the differences that you will notice most of all. There may be so many differences that you may become homesick for likeness—anything to remind you of your home town and home folks. And there will be likenesses, although you may not at first be able to see them. When you do learn to see them, they will help to get you over the feeling of being lost; but the differences will give you the big chances to learn.

"These differences make a two-way traffic; for to the people you will meet overseas, white, yellow, brown, or black, with their own 'peculiar' customs and costumes, ideas and ideals, languages and habits, you are the one who is different. You are the foreigner. How you act toward these new people, what you approach you make to them, how you respond to their approaches, will be making deep and lasting impressions on them, may enrich their lives or may sour their memories. By your attitude, your manners, your purpose, you will be helping to shape their hopes or their fears for the new world to come when the fighting is over.

"I thought this was a nice piece of work on just how a soldier or any serviceman feels when his time comes. I know my father felt the same way. You go thinking of the great task ahead of you and the closer it gets the bigger it seems, but the one who goes forth thinking he can never compete with the odds but still keeps faith is usually the one who will succeed. . . .

"I suppose you think I'm getting kind of poetic but if I didn't write such things I doubt if I could write much of a letter because they won't let me write things about the camp like I did at McCain.

"This is one holiday season I'm going to miss, I'm afraid. I surely would like to be there to help pass out the baskets at Thanksgiving and Christmas, but maybe I can help next year, I hope. You know, a lot can happen in a year these days and I hope '44 is our Victory year. Just think, I'll get to go to the polls and vote for my candidate for the first time. I'll be 21 then and capable of choosing a man who I think is best suited for the position as president of the United States."

Feature No. 1.—Praised as one of the most entertaining comedy-dramas of the season, Universal's "Top Man" comes Sunday to the State Theatre. Co-starred in the picture are Donald O'Connor, Susanna Foster, Lillian Gish, Richard Dix and Peggy Ryan. Outstanding players in the supporting cast include Anne Gwynne and Noah Beery, Jr., while diverting musical specialties are contributed by the celebrated Borrah Minevitch Rascals, the Bobby Brooks Quartette and Count Basie and his orchestra. The story of "Top Man", declared to be intimately appealing, deals humorously and dramatically with present day family affairs and situations close to the heart of so many Americans who have readjusted their lives to meet necessary wartime changes.

As Feature No. 2—You've probably seen them on the road—trucks marked "Danger, Nitroglycerine"—and passed them by without giving a thought to the men who drove them. Most people don't know that transporting nitro is one of the most dangerous jobs in the world, perhaps because it has been one of the least publicized. Paramount has made it the basis of an exciting, action-filled movie called "High Explosive," starring Chester Morris, Jean Parker and Barry Sullivan, and is bringing it next Sunday to the State Theatre.

75 4-H CLUBBERS AT RURAL MEETING

Delegates Are Selected for Youth Conference

The 4-H Recreation Group of young people of the county had their regular monthly meeting at the home of members, Jane and Gene Mark, on the Miami-Trace Road.

The meeting was held on the third floor of the new hybrid seed corn building on the Mark farm. More than 75 members were present at the meeting and plans were made for holding an election of officers and re-organization at the next meeting in November.

During the business session, presided over by the president, Edward Davis, two delegates were elected to the Rural Youth Conference, a section of the American Country Life Association meeting in Columbus at the Ohio State University this week.

Three hundred delegates are expected to attend the Rural Youth Conference from more than 30 states.

Kathleen Morrow and James

Waddell are the delegates from Fayette County. They left for Columbus Wednesday morning.

A part of the expenses of the delegates was paid by the local Farm Bureau in promotion of the educational program of Rural Youth in the county.

Two Fayette County young people, former members of the 4-H Recreation Group, are members of committees on the Youth Section of the American Country Life Ass'n. meeting in Columbus this week.

The two young people are Lois Cavine and June Montgomery, students at Ohio State University.

LIFE OF SAILOR IN AFRICA FULL OF SURPRISES

David E. Browne Writes He Has Met Several Boys From Washington C. H.

The life of an American sailor has variety and is spiced by surprises, a letter from David E. Browne, Y-2c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Browne, Vandeman Street, Washington C. H., reveals.

Browne was one of the first boys here to enlist in the navy—October 29, 1940—and since that time has been to many far distant places in the world and has experienced the terrors of screaming shells and blasting of bombs.

Right now, he said in a letter to the Record-Herald, "I am in a North African port, but naturally I cannot tell where or why." The letter was written October 3—that was during the thick of the fighting in Italy and just two days after the American forces captured Naples from the Germans after Italy had surrendered.

"My work," he said, "is sometimes rather dull, but then again there is always something different coming up and I never can foretell the future." He said, however, that he is "working seven days out of seven" and added philosophically "that is life."

Surprising as it might seem, Browne wrote that he "had been fortunate in meeting several boys from Washington C. H." The first was Ralph Hyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chan Hyer. Then he ran into Ensign Wallace Fite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fite, and a short time later he met Don Haggard, son of Patrolman Harley Haggard, of the city police force.

The meetings, he wrote, were under unusual and "amusing" circumstances. "For example, Hyer and I were on the same ship going on an operation that the Record-Herald must have had a full account of some time ago," he said but he did not amplify the statement. He wrote that Ensign Fite had taken him over the ship he was on and that they had "enjoyed a nice long visit."

He met Haggard in the non-commissioned officers' club in an unnamed North African city and added that since he was "just over for two months, we had the most to talk about." His letter gave the impression that he had not been there so long for he wrote, "Hyer had been over as long as I had, but I had the good fortune to go back."

These were not the first meetings these young American fighting men had had. Browne's letter said he had met both Hyer and Ensign Fite in Scotland previous to their several get-togethers in Africa.

"You are probably wondering just where I have been and what I have been doing," he wrote and then explained that while he could not go into detail he suggested that "if you have read about the current operations (the invasion of Italy) you could follow me fairly closely." He then added significantly: "And believe me I'm glad to be in the navy instead of the army."

Browne wrote that he gets

They're proud of the Marines, for they have everything the fighting mustard jackets stand for in M-G-M's action-packed film, "Salute to the Marines," coming Sunday to the Fayette Theatre. You would have to be a better man than Wallace Beery to take that smile off his face. And Marilyn Maxwell, who plays his daughter, also can take care of herself in topnotch fashion.

"darned tired of washing my clothes" and says this is one of his most monotonous chores but there is typical spice in life for the sailor when he gets liberty. He wrote he had a "very good time at the home of friends" where he was invited for dinner. The food, he said, was "somewhat different but very good." There is swimming, too, which he said he had enjoyed very much all summer.

What would the life of a sailor be without the girls? Browne answered that himself with the implication that in North Africa where he has been, this part of the sailor's life is somewhat circumscribed by the shortage of girls, but by no means dull.

"They have a few dances for us," he wrote, "but there are so many fellows and so few girls we can only squeeze in a dance or two in an evening." But, Browne said, he knew four Frenchmen about his own age and "they took me many places where lots of other servicemen could not get in."

He wrote he had found the French and Spanish girls "lots of fun" but he warned "do not get serious with them." "They are very nice looking and like the same things any American girl does," he said it helps if you can speak their language and admits that while he is "rather crude" at it he can understand them if they speak slowly.

There were some WRENS (English girls with the British navy) in Africa with whom he has had some good times, both in Africa and in Scotland.

But it was the WACS that brighten the lives of the American boys overseas, for, as he wrote echoing the feelings of his fellow Yanks, "we'll take the American girls any day."

He wrote he found "this place rather different" than he had expected. However, baseball gave it an American atmosphere and Browne said he was going to the "World Series of North Africa" in the afternoon. Zeke Bonura of the old Giants, he said was managing one of the teams.

WAR PRISONERS ARE BETTER FED THAN GERMANS

Packages from Home Provide Better Diet, NWF Survey Shows

Here is good news for those Fayette County families who have relatives or friends in the prison camps in Germany.

According to word received by A. B. Murray, county chairman, through the National War Fund, packages from home make it possible for many American prisoners of war in Germany to enjoy better diet than German civilians.

Recent pictures of American prisoners of war, taken by a representative of War Prisoners Aid, YMCA, a participating agency in the National War Fund, show our men apparently adequately clothed and well fed, it is stated. War Prisoners Aid delegates have reported that prison camp fare in Germany, supplemented by eleven-pound food parcels sent to American prisoners, give the captured Americans a better diet than that of civilians. Member agencies of the National War Fund representing the Allied Nations use part of their funds to provide packages for war prisoners.

The pictures recently received in this country were taken at Stalag 111B, a German prison camp southeast of Berlin where the largest group of captured Americans has been interned. Stalag 111B is very big and is located in a pine forest, according to a report received by the National War Fund. The prison camp consists of huts and is like a little town, with long, straight concrete streets. Between the huts are so many open spaces that air and sunshine can reach all of them. The camp formerly was occupied by Serbian, Russian and French prisoners, some of whom may still be there.

Not all prisoner of war camps would show conditions as favorable as those at Stalag 111B, however, Dr. Tracy Strong, world director of War Prisoners Aid, has warned. Conditions of prison camps vary according to their location, age and the personnel in charge. In dealing with American prisoners, it is the policy of the German government to live up to the letter and spirit of the Geneva Convention relative to the humane treatment of prisoners, Dr. Strong is quoted as saying.

SYNTHETIC QUININE, EH!

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21—(P)—Discovery of a substitute for quinine, which will help replace supplies cut off by Japanese seizure of the Dutch East Indies, is revealed in a preliminary report to the convention of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States.

Gov. John W. Bricker is shown here signing the proclamation designating National War Fund Day in Ohio. Next Monday will be National War Fund Day here, when the opening meeting of the drive is held at 8:15 P. M. in the high school auditorium. Left to right are Charles F. Kennedy of Van Wert, president of the National War Fund, Ohio division; Robert V. Clapp, Columbus, director of the National War Fund, Ohio division; Gov. Bricker and A. M. Miller, Columbus, vice-president of the National War Fund, Ohio division.

Fayette Soldier Helps With Rodeo in England

The morale of the American boys overseas is high, as attested by the recent staging of a typical American "Rodeo" by soldiers stationed in England, with Goolsby and others who took part in the show collected "bucking broncos," "wild steers" and other equipment necessary; from the countryside around the army post.

Cpl. Charles Goolsby

Corporal Charles Goolsby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Goolsby, 520 South North Street, taking an active part in the entertaining affair.

The local man had been with a rodeo outfit in the States, and some of the other soldiers also had experience in range riding and rodeo work, so the wild west show they staged before a huge crowd of soldiers and folks from the surrounding area seems to have gone over big.

OHIO GOVERNOR INVITED TO MILITARY CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—(P)—Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, the governors of 10 other mid-western states and 400 war production leaders are being invited by the War Department to attend a conference at Fort Knox, Ky., Oct. 28-29 to hear an analysis of the military situation.

In the battle of Jutland in 1916 there were only 252 warships on both sides.

TWO RUBBER PLANTS ON CIVILIAN GOODS

Industry Is Preparing To Make More Tires

AKRON, Oct. 21—(P)—At least two Akron rubber concerns are beginning to reconvert war production facilities to manufacture of goods for civilian use. Hundreds of workers are being transferred from the manufacture of war goods to production for civilians as the industry prepares to work toward the government's goal of 30,000,000 synthetic passenger automobile tires, a survey conducted by the Beacon Journal indicated. About 1,000 employees are being released for work on civilian goods with the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.'s decision to move its self-sealing gasoline tank division to a leased plant at Zanesville, O.

Some of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. operations have been moved to New Bedford, Mass., and Lincoln, Neb., freeing other hundreds of workers for tire production here.

Have a "Coke" = Auld Lang Syne

... or how to welcome a returning hero

He'll be looking for the old familiar things—the gang at the corner store, his old room, the family radio. That's why Coca-Cola makes such a perfect welcome. He learned to like its ice-cold refreshment in his boyhood. In camp and overseas it helps him make new friends. On his return it says to him, Son, you're home again. In all the world there's no better way to say Auld Lang Syne than that simple American phrase—Have a "Coke".

On Sports
By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21—(AP)—Indications are that the usual indoor track meets will be held next winter, but not as usual. Promoters are going ahead with their plans knowing that they'll probably have Gil Dodds (divinity student), Bill Hulse (research chemist) and Don Burnham (medical student) to run the mile races. As for the other athletes, A. A. U. Secretary Dan Ferris says he can't even be sure from day to day who is in the armed forces and who isn't.

New books published by the U. S. Naval Institute to aid physical training instructors in the aviation are titled: basketball, boxing, wrestling and labor engineering. The last is recommended to graduating college athletes—it gives the proper technique for using a pick, shovel, post-hole digger, etc.

It is reasonable to assume that the Lions now are capable of using a little more than just straight football to carry the attack to the enemy. Up until last week's game little could be undertaken in the way of surprise plays. Now that a backfield combination has been found that has played together a few quarters it would not be surprising to see the boys pull a few more new plays.

Most of the team came out of the Hillsboro game in fair shape.

SPRING BASEBALL TRAINING
TO BE HELD AGAIN NEXT YEAR
ABOVE LANDIS-EASTMAN LINE

By BUCKY O'CONNOR
CHICAGO, Oct. 21—(AP)—Major league baseball clubs again will conduct spring training north of the "Landis-Eastman" line.

Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis' terse announcement to that effect yesterday ended speculation that any of the big league ball clubs would return to their warm southern haunts for conditioning.

'Laying It On'
Ivy Leaguers
Gets Denial

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21—(AP)—Reports from New York that the University of Pennsylvania is "laying it on" against Ivy league teams this fall drew an indignant denial from Coach George Munger last night.

"We're not trying to run up scores on anybody," Munger said, "I don't feel that either team benefits from such a game. On the other hand, it's not football to kick on first down or try for a field goal when a touchdown may be scored."

Discussing Penn's 47-9 victory over Princeton and 41-7 drubbing of Yale, which apparently drew the criticism, Munger pointed out, "We cleared the bench in both games and any time a substitute gets into a game, he's in there to do all he can."

Figures show the Red and Blue used 11 ends, six tackles, nine guards, three centers and 11 backs against Princeton, and 10 ends, six tackles, seven guards, three centers and 14 backs against Yale.

A few bruises and bad knees are causing trouble but the first time in several weeks Coach Jerry Kissell should be able to throw his best boys at the opposition. It might be necessary to use Captain Dick Kelly and Bill Rudduck somewhat sparingly until their injuries are given a little more time to heal but they should be available when a little extra punch and drive is needed to score touchdowns.

Last Friday's game brought to light several encouraging things.

Prominent among them was interference on running plays where interference had been lacking in previous contests. The team suddenly realized it had a potential passing threat in the backfield in addition to Rudduck, that passer being Curry who mixed short "basketball passes" with long rifle-like aerials that found their mark consistently. Coupled with passing, Curry also took over part of Rudduck's load of ball carrying that was so badly needed to relieve the 134-pound halfback from an overdose of work.

End play, too, was improved especially in the pass receiving department. One of the three touchdowns was scored on a pass, Rudduck to Boylan.

Next week the Blue Lions will have another away-from-home game with London up in Madison County before the final home game of the season here with Portsmouth East. The season will be brought to an end at Circleville in a game that will undoubtedly have an important bearing on the final standings of the South Central Ohio League.

Here's where the other clubs trained last year:
National League—New York, Lakewood, N. J.; Brooklyn, Bear Mountain, N. Y.; Boston, Choate School, Wallingford, Conn.; Philadelphia, Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Penn.; Pittsburgh, Muncie, Ind.

American League—Detroit, Evansville, Ind.; New York, Masbury Park, N. Y.; Boston, Tufts College, Medford, Mass.; Philadelphia, Wilmington, Del.; Washington, Washington, D. C.

Cleveland and Cincinnati will have access to the splendid indoor facilities at Purdue University field houses.

One More Hurdle
In Stag's Path
To the Rose Bowl

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21—(AP)—The "grand old man" of football, Amos Alonzo Stagg, seemingly has only one more hurdle to accomplish with his amazing College of the Pacific team to insure an invitation to the Rose Bowl New Year's game.

If the Staggmen can beat the heavy, experienced and withal speedy Trojans of Southern California here Saturday in one of the nation's outstanding contests, there are only three minor foes for the Pacific to conquer—St. Mary's November 6, San Francisco University, November 20, and the Pleasanton, Calif., Navy in the wind-up.

If Pacific can beat the Trojans it is the best team by any stick. Stagg, tossed aside 10 years ago by the University of Chicago as too old, has sprung four surprises in five games. He upset the star-studded Del Monte Pre-Flights last week.

BUTKOVICH
HIS LEAD

CHICAGO, Oct. 21—(AP)—Tony Butkovich of Purdue has increased his individual scoring lead in the Western Conference with a total of seven touchdowns and 52 points in two conference games.

Official figures show the former Illinois fullback, now at Purdue as a Navy trainee, is far ahead. His nearest competitors have only 12 points to his credit.

In team statistics Purdue leads conference scoring with 70 points in two games, in net yards gained per game, 411, and in rushing, 356 per game.

Illinois is second offensively with 46 points, 264 yards a game and 240 yards rushing. Indiana leads in passing, having an average gain of 98 yards per game.

DAY'S ACTIVITIES
IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Oct. 21—(AP)—Stocks generally lost their rising stamina today and market leaders, backed down fractions to a point or more. The list was no worse than mildly irregular at the start but light offerings soon dented trends. Dealings slowed appreciably after the opening and earlier weak oils reduced their declining near the fourth hour. There were a number of firm issues.

Wall Street still was bullish on takes and progress of the war but the recovery of the past week inspired profit cashing here and there.

most bulls cutler and common dairy-bred kind $7.00-10.00; yearlings generally scarce; bulk good and choice scarce $15.00-16.00; grassy calves with weight selling $8.00-10.00.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Something for Jerry

American workers since the beginning of the war have manufactured 25,000,000,000 rounds of small arms ammunition, or enough bullets to fire 1,500 shots at every Axis soldier in the world. The Grand rifle which fires 60 shells per minute costs $85 or just about the cost of four $25 War Bonds. Figure it out yourself and buy more Bonds.

The Army General Staff prides itself on making the American soldier the best equipped and the most protected fighter in the world. It's lives or money. Your War Bonds provide the money.

USO HELPS WCH SOLDIER LOCATE HIS BROTHER

A-C James Wilson Tells Part USO Plays in Servicemen's Lives

"My best experience with the USO was when they helped me find my brother one week-end when we were both in the same town," A-C James Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Wilson, wrote to Walter Patton in response to inquiry sent as to how the USO was helping him. Cadet Wilson is stationed at Wichita Falls, Texas.

"I always visit the USO when in town. There is always something going on there. They have picture shows, dances, stationery for writing letters, bingo and many other things to do. The only charges are for soft drinks, candy and such. For a cot during the night, shaving articles, towels and so forth, there is no charge," Cadet Wilson continued.

"They are very friendly and will always try to help in any possible way they can. I think the most important thing now is to give to causes that help the boys over there. Next to that, giving to the USO to help entertain the boys here, seems unimportant. Still, if money is available, by all means give a part to the USO."

"The USO's are always packed. Of course, they can only entertain a fraction of the soldiers who are in town. They are one of the few places in any town where a serviceman can go to have a good clean time. I'm sorry to say, though, that most of the servicemen don't go to the USO for the simple reason that there isn't enough room to accommodate them."

Cadet Wilson's letter was one of several received by Patton in response to questions he asked about the part the USO plays in the life of a serviceman.

The USO is one of the important agencies receiving funds from the National War Fund campaign beginning here next Monday. "Money contributed to the USO through the National War Fund provides a 'home away from home' for our boys, our fighting men who are depending on the folks back home to support them to the limit," the National War Fund worker's handbook states.

What will your dollars do for our fighting forces?

One dollar contributed will enable USO to provide full club facilities to six men for one day—$10 will enable a USO Mobile Unit to entertain 1000 men at five isolated outposts, with movies, song records and refreshments—$25 will cover the cost of showing fall length feature movies to 2,000 servicemen and women at USO clubs—$100 will cover a year's operation of a "home room" at a USO club where servicemen and their wives and members of women's auxiliary forces cook their favorite dishes for informal parties—$15 will provide bed and bath for six men every night in a home-like atmosphere at USO clubs when on leave from camps and outpost duties in continental United States and western hemisphere.

MRS. MARY STEWART FUNERAL ON SATURDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Stewart, 73, widow of Frank Stewart, former funeral director of Bowersville, who was found dead in bed at her home Wednesday, will be held Saturday at 2 P. M. at the Methodist Church in Bowersville, with Rev. W. G. Neel in charge.

Surviving are two foster children: Mrs. Wiley Manker, Bellefontaine, and Mrs. Esta Stewart, Chillicothe; and three brothers, Grover Bales, Xenia; Charles and Harry Bales of near Xenia.

BLOOD DONOR REGISTRATION IS UNDER WAY

Fayette County Quota Is 300 Pints; Unit Comes Here November 8 and 9

"Fayette County isn't going to fall down this time when the mobile blood unit comes around—we're going to have enough donors!" Ray Brandenburg, chairman of the registration committee here, said today when he announced that the committee is ready to receive registrations for blood donors.

Prospective donors may call Miss Clara Story at 6681 between the hours of 9 A. M. and 12 noon and from 1 to 4 P. M. to register. The mobile unit will be at the Grace Methodist Church here Monday and Tuesday, November 8 and 9. Three hundred registrants are sought here, Brandenburg announced.

"We can take care of eight people every 15 minutes," he said and added: "The least we can do is to donate a pint of blood." Hours for giving blood will be from 12:30 to 4:45 P. M. on November 8 and from 10 A. M. to 2:15 P. M. on November 9, Brandenburg announced.

The canten and other arrangements at the church will be in charge of the Phi Beta Psi sorority, he indicated.

The committee in charge of registrations is Ray Brandenburg, chairman, Fred Rost, Col. Rell G. Allen, Judge H. M. Rankin, Paul Pennington, Harold Layman, Miss Clara Story and Mrs. Willard Perrill.

REVIVAL TO START HERE NEXT MONDAY

South Side Church of Christ To Have 2 Weeks Service

Starting next Monday night and continuing for "at least two weeks" at the South Side Church of Christ, will be a revival meeting, Rev. Edward J. Cain, pastor of the church, announced today.

Services will be held every night at 7:45 o'clock except Sunday night, when services will begin at 7:30 o'clock. There will be no services on Saturday night, he continued.

Every evening after school a half-hour meeting for children of grade and junior high school age is scheduled, Rev. Cain continued, adding that all school children are invited to attend the services.

Preaching will be by Evangelist Edward J. Cain and the singing will be in charge of Song Evangelist Olin D. Atwood, of Greens Fork, Indiana, the announcement added. Chalk pictures are scheduled every night to illustrate hymns. Monday night the picture will be "The Haven of Rest." The sermon subject Monday night is "What It Means To Be a Christian" and on Tuesday night, "The Rich Man and Lazarus."

The chalk pictures will be given each night to the person who brings the largest number of people to the services, Rev. Cain said.

DRUG ADDICT ARRESTED HERE

Turned Over to FBI for Prosecution

Edward Haynes, 43, giving New Orleans as his home, was turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation Wednesday afternoon and removed to Columbus for prosecution on a charge of forging a prescription for narcotics.

Haynes was arrested by the police after he had tried to induce a physician to fill the forged prescription.

When the FBI authorities were notified by Captain Jess Ellis, they sent a man here immediately and Haynes was taken in custody.

When arrested, Haynes had the forged prescription in his possession, and when Captain Ellis compared the handwriting with that on Haynes' social security card, the writing was identical, the officer stated.

The police had been searching for Haynes for some time before he was located.

Haynes had a hypodermic needle and drug concealed in his clothing. He had served two terms in federal prison for violating the narcotic law.

VAYHINGER TO SPEAK AT NWF OPEN MEETING

President of College To Address Group Monday Night

Dr. Ira D. Vayhinger, president of Cedarville College in Cedarville, is scheduled to make the main address at the open meeting of the National War Fund campaign to be held next Monday at 8:15 P. M. in Washington High School auditorium. A. B. Murray, chairman of the National War Fund committee here, announced.

Dr. Vayhinger has been president of Cedarville College for two years and is now chairman of the Green County National War Fund Committee, according to information received by Murray. He is a "well-known" speaker and Monday night will be his first appearance as a speaker in Fayette County, he continued.

Dr. Vayhinger was Ohio executive of the USO in 1941 and has had "wide experience in work of this type," the announcement added.

The meeting will be attended by the approximately 300 workers on the Fayette County National War Fund committee and it is hoped that an equal number of non-workers will attend the meeting. The Temple Street entrance to the auditorium will be used.

Murray will be master of ceremonies during the program. Rev. H. B. Twining, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will pronounce the invocation; Rev. George B. Parkin, pastor of the Grace Methodist Church, will make a response to Dr. Vayhinger's speech and Rev. John K. Abernethy, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will pronounce the benediction.

After the open meeting, a group meeting of the entire committee will be held in the auditorium, after which the subordinate committees will meet with their workers to hold more concentrated discussions, Murray said.

BONDS FOR BABIES DRIVE UNDERWAY

County Women's Clubs in Three Month Campaign

Women's organizations in Fayette County will participate in a Bonds for Babies campaign during the next three months. Mrs. N. M. Reiff, chairman in charge of women's activities on the Fayette County War Finance Committee, said today.

She explained that the organizations will observe birthdays of children of the members and the birth of new children by giving war stamps.

This campaign is part of a state-wide drive for parents to buy one bond each month for their children. An $18.75 bond purchased each month for children born now will, by the time he is ready for college, have $3000 to start his education, Mrs. Reiff pointed out.
